

CELEBRATING THE

40TH ANNIVERSARY

OF NAVAJO ENGINEERING AND CONSTRUCTION AUTHORITY

Created in 1972 by the Navajo Nation Tribal Council, the Navajo Engineering and Construction Authority (NECA) has been the primary heavy equipment enterprise serving the Navajo Nation. With its 40th Anniversary in 2012, NECA celebrates and honors its unprecedented success, among others, by providing quality employment for our Navajo people, contributing over $15 million towards scholarships for our Navajo students, building over 600 miles of paved roadways and over 6,000 miles of water-lines for our Navajo Nation. NECA stands unmatched and because of that, NECA extends its great appreciation to its employees, staff, board members, Navajo Nation communities and chapters, current and past Navajo Nation leaders and all those who support and partner with NECA. Ahéhee'. We look forward to another 40 years.
